CORE OFFERINGS:

Atlanta 3PL Warehouse Storage

Porter Logistics has ample warehouse storage in Atlanta. We are licensed and certified to handle Food via our GMP audits from the AIB as well as HAZMAT Chemicals via our audits from the Alliance for Chemical Distribution & EPA Registration. We are your one-stop shop for both ambient and temperature controlled warehousing.

Atlanta Warehouse Square Footage or Pallet Positions

Based on your merchandise and inbound / outbound volume, Porter Logistics will craft a program that maximizes your efficiency, ensuring you achieve the most bang for your buck. Charging by 1) square footage in a rack, 2) square footage on the floor, or 3) number of reserved pallet positions are all options available to you.

Atlanta Racked Warehouse Storage

We offer flexibility in racking options based on the characteristics of your inventory. Standard selective racking, for maximum versatility, drive-in racking for product not needing FIFO (first in, first out), and cantilever racking for oddly shaped or elongated product (e.g., lumber or pipes) are all available options.

Standard Atlanta Warehouse Floor Storage

The simplest option is to rent Atlanta warehouse storage space on the floor. This option can be the most cost-effective when product can be stacked on top of each other 3 pallets or higher and 3-4 pallets deep. Oddly shaped or extremely heavy merchandise may find this commercial storage solution as optimal.

CASE IN POINT

Publicly Traded, Bay-Area Bank Use Porter Logistics for Three Year Atlanta Warehouse Storage Project

The Challenge

A large, publicly-traded bank on the West Coast needed to wind down a local Atlanta company. While the company was winding down, it still held considerable technological assets whose value was in the tens of millions of dollars. Bankruptcy proceedings would take multiple years and the landlord for the company's warehouse was one week from locking the doors (and all of the assets) inside. Without a physical presence in Atlanta, the client needed a local Atlanta warehouse storage agent who could pickup, transport, and commercially store the assets in Atlanta for an undetermined length of time until bankruptcy and auction proceedings could be established and completed.

How we Helped

To proactively address these issues, Porter Logistics sent a project manager out to the company's current industrial space. Coordinating with the local company officers and Senior banking management back on the West Coast, speed was of the essence given the time-sensitive nature of the project. In three days Porter Logistics transferred the contents of a 10,000 sq. foot warehouse and 2500 sq. foot office using it's proprietary fleet and team of contractor partners. When a buyer for the assets was identified and ready to purchase, they opted to use Porter Logistics transportation options to an out-of-state location - helping both the buyer and our banking client reduce their overall headache.

Results

The client was thrilled with Porter Logistics performance, noting that the speed from 1) negotiation to 2) signed contract, to 3) project execution was less than 48 hours. Product was faithfully stored for over three years with no damage or losses. The bank was able to liquidate the company's assets and ultimate protect its business interests with the help of MyPorter.

"I can't believe how smoothly it went, we were expecting a disaster with whomever we chose to execute the project given the short notice. It's the easiest transaction I've ever dealt with"
